The proposed amalgamation will be carried out in furtherance of a proposal of the Singer group of companies to streamline the group structure by rationalising the number of operating companies with a view to:

- (i) eliminating undue value leakages in optimising cost synergies, thereby enhancing profitability of the Singer group of companies and returns of the shareholders;

- (ii) minimising duplication of management functions, thereby ensuring operational efficiency; and
- (iii) benefiting from stronger financial strength with an increased asset base.

Further, the Board of Directors is of the view that this proposed amalgamation will enable the Singer group of companies to operationally and strategically drive planned value creation. The proposed amalgamation of the companies will allow the consolidation of the businesses of the three companies under “Singer (Sri Lanka) PLC”.

Subsequent to the proposed amalgamation, Singer (Sri Lanka) PLC would become the amalgamated company, with the particulars of Singer Industries (Ceylon) PLC and Regnis (Lanka) PLC being removed from the register maintained by the Registrar General of Companies.
